Most of the disk and disk recovery tools mentioned here are not very complicated to Use and anyone with basic knowledge of the operation of a computer can use them to recover lost data.. Most of the hard drive and disk recovery tools mentioned here arent much complex to use and anybody with a basic knowledge of operating a computer can use them to get back the lost data.. I was able to get it mounted finally and opened up some directories that contain data and they are empty I know the data is there and it even says the space is used up.
